

Sharing innovation and best practice in AKI

17 November 2015 | 08:30 - 19:30

Agenda

08:30 - 08:55 Registration, tea and coffee

Session 1 | Chairs - Marlies Ostermann and Debasish Bannerjee

08:55 - 09:00 Welcome and introduction

Dr Chris Laing, Royal Free Hospital NHS Foundation Trust and Chair, London AKI Network

09:00 - 09:20 Update on the national Patient Safety Alert on AKI detection and UK renal registry project

Anne Dawnay, Consultant Biochemist, UCLH and LAKIN Biochemistry Lead

09:20 - 09:35 Implementing an AKI care bundle across a large acute trust

Taryn Pile, Consultant Acute Physician and Nephrologist, Guys and St Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust

09:35 - 09:50 Preventing severe AKI through the implementation of a severe sepsis bundle

Edward Stern, Specialist Registrar in Nephrology, North Thames

09:50 - 10:05 Network implementation of a primary care AKI alert system: Evaluation of 2 years' experience in North London

Omid Sadeghi-Alavijeh, CMT and Anne Dawnay, Consultant Biochemist, UCLH

10:05 - 10:20 Improving AKI care as part of an integrated, regional deteriorating patient collaborative

Ganesh Suntharalingham, Consultant Intensivist, Northwick Park Hospital and Clinical Lead, North West London Critical Care Network

10:20 - 10:35 CKD following AKI: The rationale for and implementation of a specialist AKI follow-up service

Chris Kirwan, Consultant Intensivist and Nephrologist, Bart's Health

10:35 - 10:50 Levels of implementation of AKI standards in London: Results of the network organisational audit

Bhriugu Sood, Consultant Nephrologist, St Helier Hospital

10:50 - 11:20 Break | coffee, tea and networking

Session 2 | Chairs - Jack Galliford and Bhriugu Sood

11:20 - 11:35 What can we learn from AKI serious incidents in AKI care in London? Results of a network review of the National Reporting and Learning System

Katy Gordon, Quality Improvement Manager, London Renal Strategic Clinical Network and Chris Laing, Chair LAKIN

11:35 - 11:50 Implementing an AKI specialist nurse service: The King's experience

Kelly Wright, Lead Nurse for AKI, and Satish Jayawardene, Consultant Nephrologist, King's College Hospital

11:50 - 12:05 Implementing an AKI specialist nurse service: The Romford experience

Sarah DeFreitas, Consultant Nephrologist and Acute Physician, Barking, Havering and Redbridge NHS Trust

12:05 - 12:20 Acute renal transfer pathways and their impact on critical care services: An unresolved problem for London?

Angela Walsh, Director, North West London Critical Care Network

12:20 - 12:35 The London AKI pregnancy bundle and pathway

Anita Bannerjee, Consultant in Acute Medicine and Maternal Medicine, King's College and St Thomas' hospitals

12:35 - 12:50 The London AKI pathway for AKI in haemolytic uraemic syndrome and thrombotic microangiopathies

Danny Gale, Senior Lecturer in Nephrology, University College London

12:50 - 13:50 Lunch

Sharing innovation and best practice in AKI

17 November 2015 | 08:30 - 19:30

Agenda

12:50 - 13:50 Lunch

Session 3 | Chairs - Satish Jayawardene and Hamish Dobbie

13:50 - 14:05 Implementing an acute renal admission service and high dependency unit

Mark Blunden, Consultant Nephrologist Bart's Health

14:05 - 14:20 Opening a regional acute kidney unit

Chris Hill, Senior Practice Education Nurse, and Tess Adamji, AKU Lead Nurse, Royal Free London NHS Foundation Trust

14:20 - 14:35 AKI incidence and renal replacement therapy in critical care units in London and nationally: Results of an interrogation of the ICNARC intensive care dataset

Steve Harris, Consultant Intensivist, UCLH

14:35 - 14:50 Trends in AKI incidence and outcomes in London and beyond: Results of an interrogation of a large hospital pathology dataset

Alistair Connell, Research Registrar, UCL and Tony Wolff, Consultant Intensivist, Barnet Hospital

14:50 - 15:10 Trends in AKI incidence, outcomes and utilisation of renal replacement therapy in London and nationally

Nitin Kohle, Consultant Nephrologist, Derby and UK Renal Registry

15:25 - 15:55 Break | coffee, tea and networking

Session 4 | Chairs - Ganesh Suntharalingham and Chris Laing

15:55 - 16:10 Improving AKI outcomes in secondary care through a regional quality improvement programme: The UCLP AKI breakthrough series collaborative

Mirek Skrypak, Patient Safety Programme Manager, UCLPartners

16:10 - 16:20 London Renal Strategic Clinical Network update

Neil Ashman, Consultant Nephrologist for Bart's Health and Clinical Director for London Renal SCN

16:20 - 16:50 London AKI Network update

Chris Laing, Consultant Nephrologist for Royal Free London NHS Foundation Trust and Chair, LAKIN

16:50 - 17:10 Think Kidneys: The AKI national programme

Richard Fluck, Consultant Nephrologist and National Clinical Director for Renal, NHS England

17:10 - 17:40 The science of improvement: From ivory towers to swampy lowlands

Martin Marshall, Professor of Healthcare Improvement, UCL and Lead for Improvement Science London

17:40 - 18:10 Strategic planning for London healthcare

Andy Mitchell, London Medical Director, NHS England

18:10 - 19:30 Drinks reception

